President's Corner

I want to welcome you all to the 2010 ski season which is sure to be a busy one. We have 13 traditional three event tournaments scheduled. 9 NSL/Grassroots slalom tournaments and numerous grassroots clinical events throughout the whole state for beginners of all abilities to enjoy. With the addition of the 21st Disabled Water Ski National Championships combined with the 2nd Pan Am Games and all the IWSA clinic events to come will prove a busy start to which we believe will be a fun successful season.

We have a dedicated board of directors who will see this challenging year off to a great season like we have experienced in the past. A few new much needed younger members are bringing needed new energy to the board meetings.

The 7th Annual Charity Golf Outing will be held Thursday May 27th. This fund raiser has helped significantly to the benefit of Disabled and Youth Water Sports programs. This is a fun social event, you really don't need to be a good golfer (we're water skiers), just come out and enjoy the day and give to a good cause.

Again for this season there is a full slate of clinics scheduled for IWSA participants. These clinics are for all levels of interests. I urge everyone to partake in a clinic event of some kind. Whether you get in the water or not everyone should take the safety clinic. It includes American Red Cross Certification in adult CPR and basic first aid. I can't comment enough on the Jr. Development clinic. It's one of the best in the region. There's a day for beginners and a day for advanced kids to enjoy the benefits of top notch instructors that work great with kids. Whether it's an officials rating or a ski event there's a clinic for you.

The tournament season kicks off again with IWSA's 10th Annual Spring Fling. We've all been to the boat show, now this is a chance to experience that new boat on the water. Many vendors will display their latest ski gear for your water sports needs. It's a great way to get the season started.

If you don't ski any other event, I challenge everyone to make the state tournament. Timberlake in Mt. Vernon is host to the 2010 Bart's Water Sports Indiana State Championships. They have held many successful state tournaments with their superb hospitality and are considered one of the most beautiful ski sites in the state. There's a division for every level of skier so there's no excuses. Come out spend the day bring a friend, and be a part of the best event in the state.

Finally, please support our sponsors. They have been the back bone of our organization for a long time. If there's new ski gear you need, check out our sponsors first. They'll be glad to help, and don't forget to tell them thanks for all they do to support water skiing in Indiana.

IWSA through the board of directors goes to great lengths to provide many opportunities for all levels of skiers, officials and children. I hope everyone is taking advantage of it.

Please visit www.indianawaterski.org for all the updates on the upcoming season.

Respectively,
Jim Beck
IWSA President

Editor's Note: Reports on last year's events contain details previously un-known by the skiing community Your newsletter staff has spared no expense in covering these events with the best old fashion "shoe leather" investigative reporting this side of 'TMZ' to get you the behind the scene stories. A fund may have to be established to cover 'new shoes' and medicinal supplies expended by our crack reporting staff to bring you these stories.

Action and Fun at 2009 60th Anniversary IN State Water Ski Championships

Cindonway Shores, IN, July 25 and 26, 2009; Six decades of State tournament history were celebrated, appropriately, in the womb of organized Indiana water ski competition – Kosciusko County. Don and Peggy Bucher and the members of Water Ski Inc. proved gracious hosts as skiers traveled to Cindonway Shores to pay homage to three-event skiing. In spite of up and down weather conditions skiers set seven tournament records during the two day run of the Rollie Williams Memorial Indiana State Water Ski Championships, sponsored by Correct Craft and featuring one hundred fifteen competitors

Prissy Edwards charged into uncharted waters as the first to vie for Women 6 state championship laurels. Her marks in Slalom (3@22' off), Trick (1340 pts), and Jump (62') automatically set the standard. Prissy was hardly out of the water before vowing to better these marks in 2010. Also advancing into a new age division and, like Edwards, improving with age, Men 5 Slalom ace Kim Contos ran 2 buoys at 39' off for a new mark.

US Disabled Water Ski Team member Dan Reed improved his Jump record in Disabled MP 3 Men to 56 feet. Jared Sharkey improved the Men 1 Trick record in fine style with a stand up 6130 point run featuring an exciting array of flips. Jared was also the 2010 recipient of the Barb Miller Memorial Scholarship. Sunday's Slalom fans were thrilled by Scott Tynan's extension of his record Men 3 performance to 1.5 buoys at 41' off

Phillipa Shedd tied her Women 4 Slalom record with another 1.5 at 38' off set. Gary Hall, sporting a bionic hip and skiing pain-free, ran 1 at 35' off in Men 6. Winner Liz Tynan continued her charge toward Girls 1 Slalom fame with her best-ever 2 buoys at 22' off, and Women 1 Slalom, Jump (61'), and Overall champ Michelle Bucher advanced her Slalom PB to one half at 32' off.

In Grassroots competition Water Ski Inc. homey Mark Wyrick took first in Men 1 Slalom, with his teammates Steve Robison and Chuck Chastain going 1-2 in Men 3 Slalom. Tim Bair edged Jerry Hodges by half a buoy in Men 4.

Women Grassroots Slalom featured great skiing by Lindsay Sokol, outpointing Katie Modisett and Laura Emaus in Women 1. Kris Paton and Jenny Lambert soloed in Women 2 and 3, respectively.

Novice action featured older ski jumpers Tom Eggers (84') and Joe Willig (39') in Men 4, disproving that theory about age sensitivity to orthopedic breakdown. Grassroots slalom skiers Laura Emaus and Mark Wyrick also took to the ramp, she landing a 36 footer and he going for 71 feet.. Those two also won the Trick event, scoring Overall wins in their divisions.

Angola skier Paige Driver took Girls 3 Novice Slalom and Trick titles. Her brother Roth won Expert Men 1 Slalom with 2.5 buoys at 30 mph, also taking 2nd in Novice Trick but was unable to land a scoring Jump frustrating his quest for Overall gold. Ora Freeman enjoyed a leisurely breakfast Saturday morning and afterward took a short nap. Waking in time to amble down to the dock for his Novice Men 2 Slalom run he ran 2 buoys at 34mph, good for his blue ribbon. On Sunday he added a Trick win to his resume'. John Nile and Pat Filler finished in second and third behind Drew Mason in Novice Men 3 Slalom. Novice Men 6 tricker Dave Jarrett (1st) is merely a jump set from challenging his comrades Smith and Bucher for Overall. MP3 sit skier Reed rounded 3 Slalom buoys on the inner course at 28mph and scored 320 points in Trick, winning both events and Overall.

Other Expert Slalom action featured Matt Beck, Bryan McClintock, Joe Willig, and Steve Alwine as winners in Men 2, 3, 4 and 5 with Alwine pressed into a run-off with runner-up Steve Gilbert.

The Mark Wiggs Memorial Long Jump Trophy went to Boys 3 aero specialist Briant Detty, but not before he found himself in one heck of a jam. On his first jump B'ster's right ski tip dropped, showing stickers we're not supposed to see when he's airborne, and he began an agonizing and irrecoverable dive toward the Cindonway surface. After being attended to by meet safety officials who determined he was OK Briant finished his set with a best of 122'. This was Briant's first Wiggs Trophy which cannot be awarded to the same skier in successive years. He also earned the "Crash" trophy in a rare double he'd rather not repeat.

Continuing momentum started at last year's Regional, Jenna Gilbert's 2 buoys at 32' off was good for first in Girls 3 Slalom. Kirby Schmitt grabbed Overall as soon as she entered the meet, but carded good scores in Jump (56') and Trick (1480 pts) as well. Sarah Rozow was Slalom runner-up, Schmitt 3rd, Megan Lambert 4th, and Hannah Rozow 5th.

After a friendly debate about which of the Jonas Brothers would be the best boyfriend, the trio of Camille Clark, Lauren Goldman, and Rachel Casetti took to the Girls 2 Slalom course, finishing in that order.

Sam Jackson edged Detty by half a buoy in Boys 3 Slalom, scoring 3.5 at 35' off for the win. Detty scored 1680 points to win Tricks and Overall. Lake Clark went out early in Slalom, as did Nick Rozow and Clay Schmitt, but Schmitt came back with third place finishes in Trick and Jump to gain silver in Overall. Chase McCain led all jumpers with a meet best of 142' to take Boys 3 Jump, also placing second in Trick with a respectable run on 1130 points.

Aaron Weeks wasn't far behind McCain with a 132' Men 2 Jump winner. Weeks' meet included an Overall win on the strength of his fine 2560 point Trick run, overcoming a sub-par Slalom set. Other Century Club jumpers included division winners Scott Schmitt (Men 1 at 115') and Brian Detty (Men 4 at 111'). It was Miller time in Boys 2 and Men 3 Jump as son Blake and dad Paul took honors with 28' and 83' leaps. Both were a bit sore following their jumps, Blake because of a crash and Paul because he's just not as durable as his partner -in-flight.

Led by former Purdue standout Brian Zimmer who won Men 2 Trick with 3260 points and finished 3rd in Jump (70') and 4th in Slalom for second place Men 2 Overall, the newest ski club in the state, Indianapolis Water Ski, Inc., a/k/a/ Indy Skiers, finished the team competition in 11th place. Official team scoring may not have included Zimmer's effort as the score book did not indicate his club affiliation. The same could be said of slalom skiers Megan Lambert's 4th in Girls 3, her dad Tony's 1@35' off for 5th in Men 3, her mom Jenny's 1st place in Grassroots Women 3 Slalom, Grassroots legend Jerry Hodges' 2nd in Men 4, and Dan Stone's 3rd in Novice Men 2 Slalom. The club's other scoring members included Drew Mason (1st Novice Men 3), Aaron Crane (2nd Novice Men 2), and John Kniesly (3rd Men 5), all Slalom competitors.

Men 2 Slalom honors went to Charles Hutton, outscoring Neal Clark by 3 buoys. Mark Zimmer, Brian's brother, returned from a two year stint in Australia to finish second to his sib in Men 2 Trick with 2370 points. In other Men 2 action Tom Pollack finished 3rd Overall and Andrew Hipskind took 2nd in Jump and 4th Overall. Jeff Myers was 5th in Slalom.

Sherry Dawson upset perennial Trick champ Mindy Bates in Women 2, her 2470 point run edging Bates by 200 points. Dawson, trailing Michelle Bucher, was 2nd in Slalom, ahead of Carla Stornetta who grabbed another 3rd in Trick. Sue Goldman finished 2nd in Women 4 Slalom.

Britney Sokol swept Women 1 Overall with a first in Slalom and seconds in Trick and Jump. Molly Harrison maintained her grip on the Trick title with a 2560 point pair of passes, and Kaite Modisett went 42' for the win in Jump along with a third in Trick.

In Women 5 DeeDee Tucker swept the board, skiing around 1 buoy at 28' off, scoring 2090 points in Trick, and landing a 45' Jump for three-event Overall. Cheryl Schmitt's Slalom set hampered her Overall chances though her 40' Jump was respectable. Patty Patterson was 2nd in Trick with Cheryl well off the pace.

Veni, Vidi, Vinci. Cam Wischmeyer came, saw, and conquered the Boys 1 Slalom course with an impressive 4.5 buoys score at 28 MPH. In Boys 2 Slalom Zach Willig and Cale Bouwkamp finished second and fourth, respectively, while Nicholas Shedd and Blake Miller waged a friendly battle for Overall. Shedd jumped into a big lead after Slalom, scoring 5 buoys at 22' off. Miller's Trick run of 400 points was still 260 off Shedd's pace, but Jump was where Blake hoped to make up some ground. Alas, Miller's 2 foot Jump margin of victory over Nicholas' 26' leap wasn't enough to close the 538 Overall point spread.

The Men 1 slugfest, a/k/a Slalom, featured a couple of young Hoosier legends, specialist Nate Smith and three -eventer Cale Burdick, along with a pretty good supporting cast. Scott Schmitt placed 4th in Slalom, 3rd in Trick (4020 pts), and 1st in very windy Jump conditions (115') on his way to nailing down the Overall championship. Noah Vieke continued his march toward elite status, scoring 3 at 35' off for 3rd place. Matt Imscher rounded 1.5 buoys at 32' off for 5th and Bryan Beerman got to #3 at 22' off before going for a swim. Burdick waltzed right through the warm-up part of his Slalom set, making his 35' off set look easy. Smith did no less. At 38' off, with directionally undecided winds whipping the course, Cale rounded two buoys before succumbing to the physics of the sport. Smith had a decent gate, rounding #1, then #2, and after getting around #3 knew he had the title and skied back to the wake where the fist pumping began. Men 1 Jumping concluded the group's outing as Mark Busch went 61' for 3rd and Matt McCain 72' for 2nd.

Paul Miller was the lone Men 3 skier to make a run at Overall, and other than a rather pedestrian Trick run he carried the effort off well. While Scott Tynan and Chris Clark, the Slalom runner-up at 4.5 buoys at the 38' off length, usually sit at the top of the division, Miller isn't too far behind, regularly in short, short line and scoring 1 @ 38' off for 4th. Brian Dawson ran 2 at 38' off for 3rd. Miller's 83' Jump for a guy who doesn't do a lot of ramp work is respectable. Nursing some injuries, Shane Bucher limited his Men 3 skiing to Trick, where he won handily. Tony Lambert was 5th in Slalom.

Tom Danford's audit of his Men 4 Overall competition revealed two skiers who could put him in a hole if any of his three events didn't add up. Tricks are where Danford enjoyed big credits, scoring 4360 points, well over Barry Felton's 2200 second place effort and William Smith's 1330 points. Jim Beck, another skier on the mend, finished 4th in Trick and skipped the Overall chase. Kevin Smith handled the Slalom crowd... except for pesky Rick Shedd who forced a couple of runoff runs before the mist cleared the air and a winner was determined between the 2@38' off skiers. Danford had his

1@38' off effort cancelled by lake-mate Chuck Walker, and in the run-off for third place Walker prevailed. Still, Tom deposited more NOPS points than did Felton and Smith, both well off the Slalom pace in 9th and 10th. Brad Beerman rounded 3.5 at 35' off for 5th, with Brian Detty leading the trio of 32' off skiers including Rob Driver and Paul Goldman. Randy Strebig had trouble with wind, failing to complete one of his early Slalom passes. Felton and Smith went into Jump needing to go somewhere near 250' to overcome Danford's commanding Overall lead. Both men instead went for the mid 70's and Danford needed to just make a pass to seal Overall. Detty won Jump with a gutsy 111' in windy conditions, besting Strebig's 90 footer. Felton was 2nd Overall and William Smith 3rd.

In a break from the norm there were two Trick skiers in Men 5 and no Jump skiers. Wait a minute! That is the norm. Paul Manning cleaned up the Trick event with 2490 points, with veteran Steve Plummer not far behind with 2350. Preceding Kim Contos onto the starting dock in Men 5 Slalom both John Gradle and John Kniesly had visions of exceptional performances which would knock the king off his throne. They should know better. Scores of 2 and 1.5 buoys at 35' off are at the line length where King Kim is still warming up. Contos christened the first 39.5 off loop in this division, rounding 2 buoys. Mike Patterson and Plummer finished the Slalom scoring with sets that were below par for them.

Men 6 Trick teetered on skiers' ability to stay up through two runs. Don Bucher went down early (730 pts), and so did Randy Sharkey (1200 pts), but Larry Smith stood up for 1730 points, giving him a good launch toward Overall against Bucher. Gary Hall took the Slalom title, but Don made up some serious Overall ground on Smith by getting 1.5 at 28' off while Larry was struggling at his first 34 MPH pass. Dave Jarrett also had trouble with the Cindonway set up, dropping out during his opening pass. Another Men 6 Overall trophy went home with Smith after Bucher failed to land a scoring Jump and Larry cranked a 39 footer.

In a tribute to modern medical science there were five Men 7 competitors, one of whom competed in Jump, proving to be a bigger thrill seeker than most of the Men's field. Glenn Reid's only bump on the road to the Overall title came in Trick where Howard Little's 1300 points trumped his own 700 point run. Glenn took Slalom with 3 buoys at 32 MPH and Jump with a leap which outdid his younger friend, Smith, by .4 meter! Les Bender was second in Slalom, and Jack Montgomery third. Mont-gomery's attendance at this year's meet was in question during the early weeks of summer. In the past year he'd had a few hurdles thrown in his path. The spirit of youth is alive and well in this Men 7 division, and in Jack Montgomery in particular.

Timberlake, in the toe of the state, will host the 2010 State Meet. If history is any indicator this meet should produce some personal records and a handful of Indiana State Tournament records. And a whole lot of great memories, too!

Other sponsors recognized were N3 Boatworks, Correct Craft, Aqua Marine of Anderson, The Shelbourne Knee Center, MD Boats, Skiers Edge, Freelance Imaging.

Most Improved Female Skier of the Year

Jenna Gilbert - Jenna has been making waves raising her scores consistently every season. But this year when making a 28 off and a few at 32 was an exceptional day, Jenna made her first national appearance at West Palm Beach. After just missing the podium at the Mid West Regionals with a 6th place finish Jenna skied her first nationals and finishing with 1 buoy at 35 off for a 5th place Award.

Most Improved Male Skier of the Year

Neil Clark -Neil, a very enthusiastic young man, has appeared just about all over the state skiing tournaments this season. He has skied the Grassroots level for the past 2-3 seasons, and this year has joined the Silent Shores Ski Club. attending Monday Night Ski Leagues at Fairland regularly, then entered their first Grassroots Tournaments in 09. They became Members of the Indy Skiers and it wasn't long before they were loaning their boat for a few events, Bringing the grill from home and flipping burgers on a Saturday Afternoon Dan has graduated from 30 MPH sets to 36 MPH sets in one summer and his wife Reeda is not far behind. They attended their first state championship tournament at the Grassroots level.

Ski Club of the Year

WSI - WSI of Cindonway Shores upped the bar for state tournaments. Besides running their weekly Grassroots slalom events and battling high water through the whole season up to the state tournament. They pumped 6 inches of water out of the lake to make the ski conditions more favorable to a record number of skiers that we haven't seen at a state tournament in some time. After a full day of skiing they finished with a beautiful banquet at the Lake Tippecanoe Country Club with a beautiful view of Lake Tippecanoe.

Trick Skier of the Year

Jarred Sharkey - Jarred has excelled in tricks over the years and just keeps upping the bar. Jarred holds the Men's 1 state trick record of 6130 points, holds the regional trick record of 6520 points and finished 4th in the US National Tournament in West Palm Beach. Jarred was invited and went on to ski the Jr. US Open in Santa Fe, Texas and finished 3rd in Jr. Men's tricks.

Big Rigger of the Year

Dan Reed - Every jumper in the state knows the status of a Big Rigger. After Dan Reed set another record at the state in his jump event and found out he was invited to join the US team in France. Dan went to work to try to better his jump performance for the team. Dan worked diligently on his jumping. He went from jumping a time or two a week to almost daily. He cranked the boat speed to the max, made numerous adjustments to his cage and ski, had many coaches trying to figure how to achieve a little more distance, only to intensify the crashes he took to get there, crash after crash after crash.

Official of the Year

Tom Danford - Tom was this years recipient of the coveted Mary Jo Powers award at the Mid West Regional Tournament. This award is awarded annually at the Mid West Regionals and is presented to someone who through unselfish hard work and dedication, volunteers above the call of duty to the successful completion of the tournament. This award is past along every year to the workers of the Regionals and is voted on by all the appointed officials at the tournament. Tom fits that description no mater where he's officiating, whether it's a local fun tournament or the Jr. World Tournament in Mexico which is where he just returned from just before this banquet. tom served as Technical Controller at the tournament and not only done his share of keeping the weekend running smoothly but also managed to ski a 1st place in tricks a 5th place in jump and adding a 1st place in Overall in Men's 4 at the tournament.

Outstanding Achievement of the Year

Dan Reed - When Dan learned of his invitation to attend the 2009 Disabled Water Ski World Championships in France he was bound not to let anything stand in his way. Jr Female Skier of the Year

Elizabeth Tynan - Elizabeth's skiing is accelerating right along and has improved greatly over the past year. Liz, not only a determined skier but a class act, thanking her drivers, her judges and thanking local organizing clubs for hosting events.

Jr. Male Skier of the Year

Nicholas Shedd - Nicholas not only skied quite a few tournaments this season all over the state, but for his first year in Boys 2 he placed 1st at state in slalom and tricks. But instead of going to regionals, Nicholas and the family traveled to the British Youth Championships in Tallington Lakes in Lincolnshire where he won the slalom, tricks and overall in the Under 12 division. Nicholas becomes a 3rd generation British Champion next to his mother Philippa (Roberts) Shedd and her mother Raine Roberts who won slalom a few times and still holds British records in the slalom event.

Female Skier of the Year

Dee Dee Tucker - Dee Dee has had a good ski year and stays very involved in the sport. She always helps out at events and encourages the younger skiers with advice as well as making a newcomer feel warm and welcome. Dee Dee swept the state tournament and went to regionals and finished 2nd in slalom and 1st in tricks, jump and overall.

Male Skier of the Year

Nate Smith - Nate's skiing has been at it's finest but has been awaiting to put it all together at a big tournament. This year he took first at state, then he and team mate Cale Burdick tied for 1st at the Regionals. Both came off the dock and ran 38 off, off the dock but Nate went on and skied 4 buoys at 39 for the win by one buoy. But then at nationals Nate ran his 39 off pass and added 1 at 41, a personal best and winning over the rest of the field by 10 and a half buoys. Nate then was invited to the Under 21 worlds in Chapala, Mexico where he finished 10th.

Skier of the Year

Prissy Edwards - What can we say, Prissy keeps doing what she does best, breaking records and winning tournaments. After sweeping the state tournament she went on to Regionals and Nationals where she finished 2nd in slalom, 1st in tricks, 1st in jump and 1st overall at both tournaments.

Sam "Ski-Boy" Schmitt - 2009 Rollie Williams Award Recipient

The vanity license plate on the front of Sam Schmitt's pick-up truck reads "Ski Boy", a self-titled reference to Sam's status as coach, driver, and chief supporter of the skiers in his family, Clay and Cheryl.

However, Sam's connection to the world of waterskiing began when he was a baby when his father, Jim Schmitt, bought a boat with a friend and started boating and skiing on the Ohio River in Evansville. Sam's earliest memories are of camping at the river camp on weekends and spending family vacations boating and skiing at Moor's Resort on Kentucky Lake.

Sam and his family were members of the Evansville Water Ski Club, the "Ski-Ters". In those early years, Sam's parents, Jim and Lou, were show skiers and Sam and his siblings joined in the fun when they learned to ski, traveling to various venues performing ski shows.

In the late 1960's, Sam, along with his cousins Mark and Mike Schmitt, began competition waterskiing, practicing on the Ohio River behind their 1962 Crown Line fitted with a 80 horsepower Mercury. Sam participated in all three events, slalom, trick, and jump, but because they did not have a slalom course on the river, did not ski a course until he got to tournaments.

Sam's first jump skis were Cypress Garden Rampmasters, which he shared with his sister Patti. Those who remember the Rampmasters might recall the replacement program. If you broke one of these wooden skis, you sawed them in half, shipped them back to the company and they shipped you new skis. Sam recalls that one year in preparation for the state tournament they were breaking a pair of skis every day, shipping them to the company when they got home, knowing the mail man would deliver a new pair the next day.

In later years, Sam competed in all three events, but at heart he was always a jumper. He recalls the year he almost made it to the Nationals, a tournament that eluded him throughout his competitive years. He needed to jump 136 for a qualifying EP, so he entered a tournament in the Southern Regionals, planning to get the required EP, and then jump on a friend's private plane for the flight to Minnesota to ski the Midwest Regionals, as required. He did not make that qualifying jump on Saturday; his best jump of 143 came on Sunday, too late to make it to Regionals. He says now he didn't realize at the time that had he gone on to the Regionals, as good as he was jumping he might have placed and qualified for the Nationals.

Sam served as a forerunner for a pro ski tournament at Cypress Lakes in Calvert City, KY, skiing before the pro skiers to equalize the conditions for the pro skiers, and out jumping some of the pros in the process. One of his last tournaments was at Hawthorn Lake in 2001, where the International Police and Fire Games were held.

Sam's love of waterskiing led to his being one of the founding members of Timberlake, In Posey Co., Indiana. In those days, building a water ski lake was not quite as common as it is today. Beginning with the first tournament in 1984, Timberlake has become one of the premier waterskiing sites in Indiana.

Once Sam gave up competition skiing, he did not desert the sport he loves. He continues to coach Cheryl and Clay and is a Senior Judge in slalom, jump, and trick, having served as an appointed judge in numerous Midwest Regionals, and several times as an assigned judge for the AWSA Nationals.

Sam got his first Mastercraft ski boat in 1973 and in 1979 became a member of the Masterscraft Promotional Team. He continues to support competition water skiing by pulling a variety of tournaments every summer, in addition to supporting collegiate skiing, evidenced by his appointment at Midwest Collegiate Regionals and U.S. Collegiate Nationals.

Sam sums up his commitment to competition water skiing in this way; fun and lifelong friendships.

Columbus eyes developing ski lakes near downtown as sports draw

By Kirk Johannesen, The Republic
johannesen@therepublic.com

Columbus could become a preferred location for water skiers if it builds three water ski lakes near downtown, according to the governing body for U.S. water skiing.

The water ski lakes are part of a downtown redevelopment plan, which also calls for the construction of indoor and outdoor sports complexes.

"Columbus would become a water skier's destination if it were to move forward with this project," said Scott Atkinson, director of communications for USA Water Ski.

The Irwin-Sweeney-Miller Foundation owns the farmland where the lakes would be created, west of downtown past the bridge and railroad tracks, and north of Indiana 46.

ISMF has granted permission for 600,000 cubic yards of dirt to be removed from the property to build four baseball fields that are part of the outdoor sports complex.

The ski lakes project probably won't start until fall at the earliest, said Ed Curtin, executive director for Columbus Redevelopment Commission.

The intent is for the lakes to be used for all types of water sports, such as slalom, tricks, jumps, wakeboarding and swimming.

Strong support

The site for the water ski lakes originally was considered for the outdoor sports complex. Because land is in a floodway, erecting fences for ball fields would have created obstructions, which is not permitted.

When an alternate site for the outdoor complex was located, project officials knew that removing dirt from the farmland would create lakes. Inquiries were made to see if support existed for creating water ski lakes.

The ski lakes project has garnered local, regional and national interest, Curtin said.

Competitive ski teams from Indiana, Purdue and Ball State universities, which do not have water ski facilities of their own, have contacted the city. Purdue and IU have indicated a high level of interest in having their competitions in Columbus once the water ski lakes are complete, Curtin said.

Competitive ski teams from Indiana, Purdue and Ball State universities, which do not have water ski facilities of their own, have contacted the city. Purdue and IU have indicated a high level of interest in having their competitions in Columbus once the water ski lakes are complete, Curtin said.

Iron Girl, an organization whose mission is to empower women to healthier lifestyles, supports the plan because it could hold triathlons in Columbus, he said.

USA Water Ski's former executive director sent the city a letter supporting the three ski lakes, Curtin said.

About a dozen three-lake water ski sites exist in the United States, but few are in locations similar to what's planned for Columbus - near restaurants, hotels, parking garages and the interstate, Atkinson said. With a few exceptions, most three-lake water ski sites are located in private developments.

Three-lake water ski sites have the potential to host many tournaments or events, including national and world championships, Atkinson said.

The U.S. Water Ski National Championships is typically almost a weeklong tournament with nearly 1,000 participants annually, Atkinson said. The Collegiate Nationals draws more than 20 teams from around the country each year.

"Having a three-lake water ski site near downtown in itself would make Columbus one of the best water ski areas in the country," Atkinson said.

"When you factor in that the site would be in a prime location near restaurants, hotels, parking garages and an interstate, it would be a win-win for Columbus as well as the water skiers. It would bring a lot of attention to Columbus as a water ski destination."

USA Water Ski would assist and work with local organizing committees and tournament hosts any way possible, Atkinson added.

Cummins Foundation also is lending support, agreeing to loan Columbus Redevelopment Commission money to move the dirt from the ski lakes site to the outdoor complex site. The amount is undetermined now, Curtin said.

Moving ahead

The next step in the project is to get a master plan

We look forward to seeing others fall this year.

Timberlake is one of the best ski sites for watching great skiing! There are plenty of grassy areas to place your lawn chair or blanket. Speakers are set up along the north side of the lake to keep you informed as the tournament progresses. Concessions will be on site during the tournament to quench your thirst and satisfy hunger both days. Experience Southern Hospitality at its best!

Once again we will be using the Fairfield Inn Evansville-West as the tournament hotel. We were able to block rooms for $74 per night which includes a complimentary breakfast. They also offer free high speed wireless internet, an indoor pool, and exercise room. Saturday night's banquet will be held at this hotel.

Timberlake also offers primitive camping.

We've been promised St. Philips' Peaches at tournament time, as long as Mother Nature cooperates and remembers that spring temperatures need to stay above freezing.

We look forward to see you in July!

2009 Midwest Regionals: Report from Water's Edge

Wilmington, IL - It's no surprise that the usual suspects from Indiana reek havoc at the Midwest Regional Water Ski Championships held at Water's Edge, a man made oasis tucked away in the fields west of Chicago. In 2009, though, a pair of Hoosiers who have been flying below everyone's radar came of age under the pressure of competition.

In his first Midwest Regional action Nicholas Casetti skied away with Boys 1 Slalom honors. The nine year old from Granger had a score of 4 buoys at 24 MPH, giving him just a half buoy margin over second place Ohioan, Josh Cyphers. Another half buoy back, with 3 buoys at 24 MPH, was seven year old Cameron Wischmeyer, a Columbus area skier also experiencing his first Midwest Regional.

Slalom prodigy Elizabeth Tynan, a veteran competitor at 8 years of age, wasn't about to let Nick and Cam have all the fun. When her turn came to take to the Girls 1 Slalom course she was cool and collected, skiing at maximum speed (30 MPH) and rounding 4 buoys at 15' off the ski line for the win. The nearest competition was nearly two full passes behind Liz.

Another of Indiana's fine juniors, Blake Miller, landed a 28 footer in Boys 2 Jump, and rounded 3 buoys at 30 MPH in Slalom for 13th and 15th place finishes. Let's say that if Blake should find a pair of trick skis while doing spring cleaning at home next April he would do well to give 'em a try.

The top three Boys 3 Slalom skiers all got into 35' off. Fifteen year old Mason Mechler of Ohio, chased to the podium by Samuel Jackson, eked out a one buoy win by rounding 3 buoys. A single buoy behind Jackson was another Hoosier, Briant Detty. In Overall action Clay Schmitt affixed a "Kick Me" sign on his own back after going into the drink rounding the first buoy in his 36 MPH pass. Later that afternoon Detty, who trailed Mechler in Overall by just 63 NOPS points after Slalom, stubbed his toe badly in his first Trick pass, tallying a magnificent score of... 0. Pass #2 went much better, scoring 1160 points, but the 462 NOPS points toward Overall Detty got from the Trick event hurt his chances as Mechler stood up on both passes and tallied 769 NOPS points. Schmitt had his problems in pass #2, further hampering his quest to stand on the Overall awards stand. After a decent night's sleep Detty approached the Jump event aware he needed a massive jump to make up the 370 NOPS points by which he trailed Mechler. In a remarkable comeback Schmitt went for 114 (4th place), putting him eligible to place the 5th place Overall trophy on the mantle. Mason's 100 foot best left the door open for Detty, the top Jump seed. While going 30' further than Mechler Jump champ Detty fell short of Overall gold by a mere 87

NOPS points. Lake Clark ran 3 buoys at 22' off to finish 15th in Slalom.

Girls 2 Slalom featured two Indiana skiers - Camille Clark who finished 7th, and Rachel Casetti who was 11th. Jill Smith, not on the IWSA roster though a Hoosier according to the last federal census, won Women 2 Trick, again, with a sweet 3770 point set. Santa brought Jill a special gift in 2008, allowing Jill to ski the Slalom course. Prominently setting atop Jill's Christmas gift list for 2009 should be an Advanced Slalom Ski video. (Commentary made here represents the opinion of the author, and does not represent the position of newsletter editors, the IWSA, or its agents)

Jenna Gilbert scored 1.5 buoys in Girls 3 Slalom, but needed twice that count to do better than 6th. Megan Lambert rounded 2 at 22' off for 9th, and Sarah Rozow finished in 11th with 4.5 at 34 MPH. Molly Harrison needed another 320 Trick points to win, her 3740 point effort good for 2nd. In a tough Women 1 Slalom field Abby Schmitt (.5 at 28' off) finished in 10th. Opening pass jitters got the best of Gretchen Storm and she placed 21st. Abby was 7th (2250 pts) and Gretchen 17th in Trick. Katie Modisett went 49' off the Jump ramp for 14th in a long list of entrants. Storm, though unable to land a scoring jump, was honored by appreciative Men 1 skiers with the "What the heck, I'm here - why not ski for Overall?" award.

Turning the table on last year's winner, Marla Lott won Women 3 Slalom with a score of 2.5 at 32' off, edging Lisa Lamb by half a buoy.

Oddly, there were no Women 4 entrants from the Hoosier state in the 2009 Midwest Regional. A rumor was circulating the lakes that in 2008 a seemingly harmless trip to an area casino by a pair of Indiana ladies turned into an interstate incident. The story goes that Illinois Governor Rod Blagojevich and his Chief of Staff, John Harris, were at the casino, looking for a good time and some relief from the pressure of good governance. Seeing two hot looking Hoosier ladies at the roulette table the two officials approached and asked if the girls (whose names might be subliminally hidden in this report) would like to accompany them to the "gift shop" for some Little Debbie snack cakes. The ladies were put off by the Governor's hair, styled in the fashion of North Korean dictator Kim Jong Il, and the bad breath of Harris, and told the guys to buzz off. Not used to being rebuffed, given their stature in Illinois political circles, the two men persisted. In what witnesses reported to be a well choreographed move reminiscent of the technique hot head NYU Philosophy, Bioethics, and Psychiatry professor William Ruddick uses in the occasional departmental rhubarb, the ladies cried out "hey, look at your shoes!" and when the men did so a right fist found its mark in each man's orbital socket, leaving both Springfielders with a black eye. IWSA president Kevin Smith refused to verify or deny the rumor.

DeeDee Tucker, Cheryl Schmitt, and Prissy Edwards dominated scoring in the Women 5 and 6 divisions, with Prissy setting a new Women 6 Midwest Regional Tournament Trick record of 2530 points. DeeDee (W5) and Prissy (W6) missed a sweep of their division's competition, each of their charges interrupted by Slalom specialists who bettered DeeDee's 2 at 28' off set by 2.5 buoys and Prissy's 2.5 at 22' off set by a mere half buoy. Dang!! Cheryl's opening Women 5 Slalom pass didn't go well, but she still missed a medal by only 1.5 buoys. Cheryl medaled in Trick, though her second pass got washed out by an early swim, while DeeDee (2140 points) and Prissy creamed their respective field. Cheryl's best Jump was 42 feet, good for 3rd. DeeDee landed one Jump, but it was a winner - 62 feet. Prissy soloed, but still pushed the envelope and landing a single 51 foot Jump. Cheryl was 3rd in Women 5 Overall.

Four of the top six places went to Indiana skiers in Men 1 Slalom, featuring a knock down, drag out battle for the top spot between elite Slalom skier Nate Smith and elite Overall skier Cale Burdick. Not overlooked, however, was a great Slalom outing by Matt Imscher who ran 4 at 35' off for 3rd and Noah Vieke who got 2 at 35' off for 6th. Smith and Burdick each cleared 3 buoys at 39.5' off, sharing a new Midwest Regional Tournament Men 1 Slalom record in the process. The run-off determined Smith to be the event winner while Burdick picked up a 368 point lead in Overall. In one of the tightest Trick competitions in years Cale's Overall lead shrank when Tyler Lorenz put down a 5360 point run, but not by much as Cale's 3rd place set totaled 5220 points. Trick specialist Jared Sharkey split the two with 5260 points. In Jump Burdick bettered Lorenz's mark by 7 feet, sailing 169' for 2nd place in the event and sealing the Overall championship. Matt McCain, gaining confidence in the event, was 14th in this tough field which saw eleven jumpers exceed 100 feet.

Brian Zimmer and Aaron Weeks jumped into the Men 2 Overall fray by carding 10th and 13th place Slalom finishes, Zimmer getting .5 at 28' off and Aaron getting 5 at 36 MPH. Later that afternoon Weeks zoomed past Zimmer in the NOPS-fest by cranking a 152 foot Jump, good for 4th place. In Zimmer's defense, he doesn't get much practice on the ramp so his 70 foot effort is respectable. Andrew Hipskind was 11th with 79 feet. After a good night's rest Zimmer threw down a 2nd place 3150 point Trick run, with Weeks in 5th at 1810 points. Aaron finished on the podium in Overall, carrying home 5th place iron, while Zimmer placed 7th in a great effort.

Hoosier Men 3 skiers are pressed for time due to over-committed lives, therefore they exclusively Slalom ski. Brian Dawson was the top 38' off skier at 4.25 buoys. Unfortunately there were two guys who got into 39.5' off.

Life ain't fair. Tony Lambert got 2.5 at 35' off for 12th, and Jim Ruthrauff ran 4 at 28' off for 19th.

Tom Danford's Midwest Regional Tournament experience reached a high point with his umpteenth Overall win in Men 4, or did it? While a 110 foot Jump good for 5th is fine way to start the meet, and a 4 at 35' off Slalom (8th) adds a bunch of points toward the NOPS grail, and a first place Trick run of 3730 points locked up the three-event trophy, it may be that the receiving the Mary Jo Powers Award, given by his fellow Regional officials to the top volunteer, was Tom's best moment.

In Men 5 Slalom our boy Kim Contos made the seeding committee look pretty smart by getting a half buoy more than the fellow sitting in first place. Alas, Kim wasn't the last skier. As he swam back to shore after going down around 5 buoy at 38' off Kim watched that darned Ted McColley ski by, again, and again. Suffice to say that McColley didn't bobble until at the 39.5' off length, good for the win. In Men 5 Trick Paul Manning was 4th (2230 points) among an elite group of skiers who know how to put healthy four figure scores into each of their two passes.

Event schedulers treated the AARP crowd like a red-headed stepchild as Overall combatants Larry Smith, Don Bucher, and friends had to Jump just a few hours after completing Men 6 Slalom. In a pre-event interview with a writer from Readers Digest the cagey Smith said that he wanted to save his energy for his favorite event, Jump. What other explanation for his swimming to shore after rounding just 5 buoys? The younger Bucher went for a big buoy count at 1.5 at 28' off, gaining with his 2nd place finish a 280 NOPS point lead over Smith. Smug after seeing that Bucher was a bit gassed, Larry whistled a happy tune as he pulled on his jump suit, careful not to put his foot through the seasoned neoprene. Bucher, first up and still panting, was able to land but one Jump, a 27 footer. The time to strike at hand, Smith called for the driver to give it the gas on the approach to the ramp. With 350 horsepower pulling at Larry's arms he went up and over the ramp, G-forces popping ligaments, exploding off the top of the jump and soaring... 39 feet! Bucher's NOPS margin shrank by 117 points with Trick still to come. Among Trick experts it was common knowledge that Smith, historically, has had the edge on Bucher. Bucher, though, still had a 163 NOPS lead going into the event. Don's first Trick pass went well as he worked his hand pass single ski trick list, tallying 660 points. The pressure built as Bucher realized he need only nail the front end of his toe tricks to take Overall. "Front end", though, means more than just one 80 point trick which, is all Don got credit for before taking a swim. Smith's first pass scored but 630 points, so he was not only NOT out of the woods, he had yet to put his boots on. To snatch the Overall title from Bucher would require that Larry stand up and get credit for most of his second pass opening with the same toe tricks that tripped up Don. Cool and collected, Larry worked his way down the lake, drawing from his years of experience to score 730 points before falling, assuring for him a 34 NOPS margin of victory in Overall. Larry finished 4th in Slalom, 3rd in Jump, and 2nd in Trick. Bucher added a 5th place Trick and 4th place Jump to his runner-up spot in Slalom and Overall.

Also in Men 6 Trick was former Correct Craft executive Ken Meloon, enjoying his retirement and getting credit for 1050 points, good for 3rd place. In Men 7 Trick Howard Little careened, twisted, and spun his way to 1090 points and a 4th place trophy. Gene "the Machine" Lamberson caught a case of Bucher's Disease, dropping a lot of points into the water on his second pass. As a result he finished just off the podium, in 6th place with 680 points.

Poor Chris Clark. In his dreams he regularly thrashes fellow Big Dawg Scott Tynan on the Master Men Slalom course. But then the alarm goes off and he comes back to reality. This time Chris could see himself getting to the 39.5' off loop, where he knew Tynan was vulnerable. Rounding 1, 2, 3 at 38' off. Then 4, and 5, and.... RINNGG!! Tynan stroked 38' off and rounded 3.5 at 39.5' off to win the event and push the quest for ultimate satisfaction deeper into Clark's subconscious.

67th Goode National Water Ski Championships Report

West Palm Beach, FL - With the nation's economy suffering with a bad case of the flu only twenty Indiana skiers made the trip to this water skiing mecca for the U.S. three-event championships. In a case of quality over quantity half of those medaled, three making off with gold medals and seven others gaining positions on the podium.

The multi-lake Okechee Park remains one of the top water ski competition venues in the world. The Smith's, Nate from McCordsville and Jill from New Carlisle, each garnered gold medals in their single event specialty. Prissy Edwards, on the other hand, took full advantage of the great ski facility, skiing her way to an Overall win in Women 6 competition. Around her neck were four awards, three of them gold, a testament to her skill on water skis. Only a second place 4 buoys at 22' off finish in Slalom, 3.5 buoys off the winner's pace, kept Prissy from running the table. Opening her charge toward Overall in the Trick event, Edwards scored 2420 point in her two passes for her first gold, gaining the Slalom silver medal later the same day. In her second day of competition she handled all comers in Jump, beating her nearest challenger by 6 feet with a 67 foot best jump, also capturing the Overall title..

Another Overall contestant, Cheryl Schmitt, took 4th with a 40 foot leap in Women 5 Jump on the way to her 5th place Overall position. Cheryl faltered in both Slalom and Trick, where her entire second pass yielded no points, hurting her chance of a better Overall finish.

Nate Smith obliterated the Men 1 Slalom field, scoring a National Championship Tournament record tying 1 buoy at 41' off and leaving the second place skier nearly two whole passes behind! It is certain that Nate's day job, installing auto interiors, is not getting in the way of his favorite pursuit. So far, though, the carpet, leather, and vinyl trade pays better. Matt Irmscher ran 1.5 at 35' off for 15th and Noah Vieke bobbed at 32' off, making 4.5 buoys and finishing 19th. Former Hoosier Adam Cord, now a water ski manufacturer in Washington state, ran 1.5 at 38' off to finish 4th in the division.

In Men 1 Trick Jared Sharkey's first pass scored 1550 points, not enough to place in this tough crowd. In a second pass full of potentially high point flips Jared came through, wracking up 2970 points in his final 20 second pass and moving into 4th with 4520 points.

Molly Harrison was short just 181 points in her two passes, missing a gold medal in Women 1 Trick by that margin. No shame wearing second place silver, though. In Women 2 Jill Smith again dominated the Trick competition with 4470 points. Gretchen Storm, Lafayette, opened her Women 1 Overall quest with a 15th place Slalom pass of 2.5 buoys at 32 MPH. In Trick she found the second pass hole, finishing 12th. In her final event, Jump, she landed a 51 footer, good for 8th and helping her to a 7th place Overall finish.

Girls 3's Jenna Gilbert grabbed her first national's award with a fifth place in Slalom, missing a three-way tie for third by just half a buoy. The Ft. Wayne skier had progressed nicely through the season and peaked at the right time, getting one buoy at 35' off the line when it counted most. Another Hoosier young lady, Liz Tynan, tied her personal best during Girls 1 Slalom, scoring two buoys at 22' off which got her into a run-off for the 5th place. Liz's second set didn't yield a medal, but her improvement from the season's start to the nationals portends great things for 2010.

Sam Jackson was the best non-38' off skier in Boys 3 Slalom. Rounding 3 buoys at 35' off got him past 13 guys at that line length, but Sam's rounding buoy #4 and getting back to the wake was the moneymaker, moving him past the final 35' off skier and into 5th place. Clay Schmitt stuck it out through the Overall competition, but after being unable to land a scoring Jump in his opening event he just wasn't able to get rolling. Normally a shortline Slalom skier, Clay faltered in his first pass at top speed. In Trick he found a hole to drop into on his second pass, leaving a lot of points behind.

In seven year old Cam Wischmeyer's first US Nationals he skied himself proud with a 2.5 buoy at 28 MPH Boys 1 Slalom run, good for 11th place in a field of 26. This Sawmill skier enjoyed a breakout season in 2009, and is looking forward to 2010.

Scott Tynan and Chris Clark snuck onto the last two steps of the Master Men Slalom awards podium with Scott taking 4th with 4 buoys at 39.5' off. Chris was just one half buoy behind Scott, but he had to prevail in a run-off before allowed to step forward to receive his 5th place medal.

As a skier who has enjoyed plenty of time on the US Nationals Slalom podiums in his career Kim Contos knows how little difference there is between the award winners and the guys who stand and watch as the ceremony unfolds. Only one half buoy out of a run-off for 4th place, Kim's Men 5 Slalom pass of 3.5 at 38' off was good for 6th. In the Men 7 division the guys don't loll around talking about their 401(k) performance. The only points Boswell, Indiana's favorite son, Howard Little, worries about are the points he scores on the water. As a result Howard's Trick run still puts him in the thick of the fray. This year's 1590 point effort put him in 7th. Don Bucher finished in 25th place in Men 6 Slalom, frustrated in knowing that he is much better than his 1.5 buoy at 34 MPH score would indicate. In Men 3 Slalom competition Todd Crow's 3.5 buoys at 35' off left him in 37th.

The National Championships move closer to home in 2010, drawing skiers from all over the nation to Wilmington, IL. With a full tank of gas many Hoosiers can get to and from the event, reducing reasons to skip the event, so get after the pre-season training so that when the weather breaks you'll be ready to compete for an invitation.

completed, Curtin said. Design development drawings must be prepared, and the necessary documentation for getting permits for construction in the floodway also must be obtained.

Dave Hayward of Christopher Burke developed a preliminary master plan, and Michael Van Valkenburgh Associates Inc., the landscape architecture company which designed Mill Race Park, has submitted a proposal for developing a master plan for the water ski lakes and the outdoor sports complex.

A sports committee will meet with the Van Valkenburgh team to provide input.

Curtin said it's too early to know who would own the lakes, but ultimately he would like them to be accessible to the public.

He's excited about what the ski lakes could mean for sports tourism and the city's reputation.

"I think we have a good reputation of amateur sports we do already, but when you start adding a ski lake complex to the slate, that really puts us on the map with national and international competition," Curtin said.

Dan Reed Reports on His Participation in the 2009 Disabled Worlds

Friday, September 18, 2009

I returned from the Disabled Water Ski World Championships in France a little over one week ago. For a guy who has his roots firmly set in the Midwest, it was quite an eye-opening experience. Not only did I fly over 10,000 miles roundtrip, I got the chance to fly out of a sunset and into a sunrise on the first leg of the flight. How often do you see that? I looked out over Great Britain, clouds covering the majority of it, then over the English Channel and into France. The countryside surrounding Paris was beautiful and I actually saw the Eiffel Tower from the plane. Hey, it was exciting to me!!

The US Team met in Vichy, where we stayed in an athlete village-type of hostel that was located across the river from the ski site. We had two days of practice time on Friday and Saturday, both rainy, windy and cold. Then on the days off, it was as beautiful as I could hope for, with blue skies and 80 degrees warming us as we explored the town. On Tuesday and Wednesday, the 48 skiers from 18 countries were met with more inclement weather as we got familiar with the site. Then all of us enjoyed the Opening Ceremony, starting with a parade of all the Teams and ending with a reception featuring hor' doerves and cocktails.

The difficult weather persisted at the Preliminaries on Thursday and Friday, with even the best skiers in the world just barely sneaking into the Finals, in some cases. You learn that in any tournament, you never underestimate the power of Mother Nature, who can humble even the best of us. (Note to self, "Do not just practice in optimal conditions").

On both Saturday and Sunday, the athletes started to come into their own after the skies cleared and numerous records were broken, much to the delight of the local spectators. As always, the Jump event attracts the most people, I guess due to the possible carnage they get to witness. Craig Timm (Captain America) was the last jumper of the event and ended up breaking two World Records, allowing the US Team to win the Gold over Italy. We all celebrated with a bottle of champagne afterwards, relishing the victory. Later on, we dressed up in our Sunday best to attend the Closing Ceremonies, where the Team was given the Gold medal and featured on the podium with Italy and France, the bronze winners.

The festivities continued on into the wee hours, featuring a wonderful dinner, plenty of French vino and and great entertainment. Did you know that "wheelers" can dance pretty well? Hey, I even got up on the dance floor, after a couple (cuppa two tree) of glasses of the Chardonnay!

As the athletes, organizers and judges all said their goodbye's, I think we all realized how close we had become to one another after spending a week together. Even through the difficulty of communicating with all of the different languages, the spirit of friendship, respect and yes, even Love prevailed. I made many new friends that I will hopefully get another chance to see at the next World's event in 2011.

I would like to thank each and everyone from the IWSA, RHI Sports and the RHI Foundation that helped make this possible for me to attend. The Ski Clubs that invited me out for training, including Indy Skiers, Plainfield (Me-Ski), Fairland, Shelbyville and Champion Lake ski clubs. My deepest gratitude to the individuals that helped me by raising the money required for a trip of this magnitude. My appreciation of the support of friends and family and even strangers, that took the time to raise awareness of my fundraising efforts. I would also like to thank those folks that spent countless hours driving and coaching me. I value each and every one of your friendships. Finally, to my coaches, Bill and Denise Bowness and the rest of the US Team, you guys are awesome and I am very proud to be a part of the 2009 World Champions of the Disabled Water Ski Championships.

This has been an adventure, one, if not the best of my lifetime. My Mom would be proud.
Merci beaucoup (Thank you very much).

Sincerely,
Dan Reed
